What Are Rudraksha Beads?

Rudraksha beads are sacred seeds from the Elaeocarpus ganitrus tree, predominantly found in the Himalayan region and parts of Southeast Asia. These beads are considered the "Tears of Lord Shiva" and are highly revered in Vedic scriptures for their mystical properties. Each bead features natural clefts known as mukhis (faces), which determine its unique spiritual and astrological benefits.

Rudraksha beads are not just symbols of devotion but are used for their spiritual, psychological, and health-related effects. Wearing the right type of Rudraksha, aligned with your birth chart or planetary position, can help you overcome challenges and align your aura with positive energies.
